Al Canestro

Planning head is elected

Al Canestro, Upland planning commissioner for the past eight years and commission vice-chairman for the past two years, has been elected planning commission chairman.

He will complete the term of ex-chairman Bruce Grube, who recently resigned. The term will expire in January, 1975 when the commission will elect a new chairman.

Jerry Morris has been elected vice-chairman.

Canestro was active on the Upland Parks and Recreation Commission for two years before becoming a planning commissioner. In a time when developments are costing more each day, Upland residents can expect to see him work for "the maintenance of a quality planning activity," as chairman.

"We're going to continue to do quality work in a more critical period in which to maintain our standards," he said in a recent telephone interview.

Canestro will chair a seven-member commission, which includes Morris, Donald Brownell, Frank Carpenter, Elmer Glenn, John Meyer and Leo Leali.

Canestro is an industrial engineer with The Aerospace Corporation, El Segundo. He and his wife, Florence, have two children, including Albert, Jr., 20, and Christine Lira, 18.

He is active in the Upland-Foothill Kiwanis Club, where he is currently serving on the board of directors.

He is a manager of the Kiwanis little league baseball team in the Upland National Little League and serves as an umpire and a football official during football season.

Upland boy earns Eagle Scout rank

Anthony J. Palmisano, 17, 272 Dayton Street, Upland, and a member of Troop 608 in Upland was recently awarded the rank of Eagle Scout by the Boy Scouts of America. This is a significant achievement. Nationally, less than two per cent of all scouts ever achieve this rank, the highest in BSA.

The Eagle Court of Honor was held at the First United Methodist Church Fellowship Hall, First and C St. in Upland. The Eagle charge was given to Tony by Howard Russell, the Serrano District Scout Executive. Participating in the ceremonies were Ernie Snyder, Ray Seguy, and Milt Futhey. Tony's former Scoutmaster who presented him with the Eagle award. The Eagle Honor Guards were Rex Futhey, Richard and Robert Seguy, all Eagle Scouts and members of Troop 608.

Tony has been active in his troop for the past six years. He is a member of the Leadership Corp. and currently serving as senior patrol leader, the highest office in the troop. His favorite scouting activities are camping and backpacking as well as helping younger boys advance and become good scouts. Tony attends Upland High School where he is a senior and honor student. He is also a member of the Upland High School Marching Band and Pep Band where he plays a trombone.

Tony's Eagle project was teaching first aid for "hurry cases" to elementary and junior high students. With the assistance of his helpers, he gave this demonstration and instruction to approximately 20 classes. They built all the models that were used.

Troop 608 is prolific in producing Eagle Scouts. Tony is the fifteenth member of this troop to reach the rank since 1967.

The quartet will sing during the 8:15 p.m. production "Viva! Vaudeville" to be held in the Garrison Theater, Claremont.

Tenor John Sherburn is a student at Pasadena City College and sings with the Dapper Dan quartet at Disneyland.

Lead, Milt Christensen, is a sales engineer in "beautiful downtown Burbank" and has sung with International Champion Quartets.

Baritone Jack McCosh is vice president of a firm in Orange and is the quartets public relations man.

This years show chairman is Glenda Lee of Chino. Choreography is by Chris Peurifoy of West Covina.

"Anderson the Great," a magician from Magic Castle in Hollywood, will please theater goers who delight in dazzling effects. Anderson is a sales manager with a firm in Redlands and a graduate chemist. He was instrumental in the design of the feeding bags used by the Gemini and Apollo astronauts as well as the atistatic plastics used to drape the Saturn V rocket and the Lunar Excursion Module (LEM). He is widely known for using his magic to illustrate technical lectures to engineering groups as well as to senior citizens and youngsters.

Y-Pals, a chance to offer a little love

By DON HAM

William (Billy) Peter Andekin, "13 and one half" years old, has a round, chubby face accented with brown eyes and brown-blond hair. He was wearing a striped red, white and blue tee shirt, burgundy pants and black boots and sat in an office of the West End YMCA, waiting for his "Y-Pal" (Big Brother) Pat Flack to complete a phone call.

Friendly, alert, soft spoken, Billy explained that when he was 9, his mother and father divorced, leaving him, brothers Chris, now 12, Andy, 15, living in a foster home, and sister Cherrie, 8, without a father.

A few weeks ago, with the help of a $5 investment on the part of his mother, Billy became a Y-Pal to new YMCA Community Program Director Flack, who heads community programs, including the Y-Pal program, for Montclair, Upland, Alta Loma, Cucamonga and other West End areas.

After just two weeks into the program, Billy said he likes it and the new relationship he has established with his Y-Pal.

Billy isn't very old, but he's old enough to realize that every fatherless child needs a "father image" to, as he states, "grow and to learn."

"It's difficult living without a father," Billy said. "Because my mom works a lot, there's not enough time for all three of us. Pat kind of fills in."

"Pat's really been good for me. He's been like a father and like a brother. I'm really glad I got in the Y. If I was at home, I'd probably be up to no good, with nothing to do."

"The Y-Pal program's really geared to build character through a male identity," according to Flack.

The program encourages growth in school, encourages the fatherless boy's self image, enhances his concept of himself and most importantly, is an emotional release for him, he said.

"It's the trust level that you build up. I'm something the boy can identify with. Unlike his mother, teacher and other contacts he has, I'm a new relationship to him."

"The Y-Pal program us a new outlet for him to explore and discover what's on the outside. For many of these kids, it's the first time they've been out of the house."

The program has had a "marked emotional change" on Billy just in in the two weeks he's been involved, according to Flack.

"With Billy, a lot of new horizons in communication have opened up for him. He's looking at himself to see where he is."

"Through this program, the big brother can guide him toward becoming the right type of person."

The fatherless boys, ranging in age from 6 through 13, and their Y-Pals, local men 18 and older, meet once a week during the week and attend weekend activities with other Y-Pals.

This year's outings, scheduled twice a month, will be made to such places at the Ontario International Airport and Wrightwood, and will include day outings and picnics, a snow jeep trip, roller skating and other activities.

Flack is looking for other fatherless boys and older men to become Y-Pals for these boys.

"It's a fairly flexible program, even for a businessman," he said. "a leader doesn't have to be here any set time. We ask that the Y-Pals meet at least once a week during the week and go on outings twice a month."

Both Flack and Billy agree that the program has good things to offer the adult as well as the child.

"A friendship is developed both ways. Through the process of working together, you develop a sense of oneness and caring and sharing. Hopefully it ends up being a part of you," Flack said.

Men have fun in the program, too, Billy said. "They get to know more people — kids and other guys." Whether a man will like the program depends on "if he likes kids or not."

The YMCA has other community programs involving girls, fathers and sons, senior citizens, teens and other members of the community also. They include:

Y Indian Guides — Designed to bring father and first through fourth grade sons closer together;

Trail Blazers — A club program for dads and sons designed to build friendships while having fun in activities compatible with the boys' interests and capabilities, for boys in fifth through eighth grades;

Y Indian Maidens — Designed to bring mother and first through fourth grade daughters closer together;

Hang Ten — A new co-educational junior high school club featuring 28 week bowling league, winter camping, an Easter caravan to Mexico and special events;

Inter Lift — A new program for high school students. Activities include camp-outs, backpacking, caravans, ski trips, dinners, dances and other special reduced rate events;

Y Men's Club — Service organization of the YMCA. It meets the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month;

Y's Menettes Club — Ladies auxiliary of the Y's Men. Club meets first and third Tuesdays of each month;

Fifty Plus — Social club for senior citizens. Club meets Tuesdays.

For more information about any community program, call the West End YMCA, 215 W. C St., Ontario at 986-5847.

San Antonio Hospital is expanding

As part of a continuing $20 million remodeling and expansion program, San Antonio Community Hospital, Upland commenced construction of a new $2.6 million mental health unit this week. Totally modern in design and concept for the general and day-care treatment of mental health patients, the unit will be completed in February of 1977.

Montclair woman visits uncle in Italy

The church bells didn't ring when the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Augusto Bianco of Italy visited Montclair four years ago.

He came to see his niece, Mary Dufour, who had been pleading with her uncle for 31 years to visit California.

She was anxious to see her uncle since he had "returned from the dead" 34 years before. That was when the church bells rang for the priest when he returned to his village on the day of his funeral mass.

Msgr. Bianco was a chaplain in the Italian Navy and his ship was sunk by British gunners during World War II. He was presumed dead but somehow had ended up wounded by bombardment in Egypt and was held prisoner by the British for six months.

When he returned to his village, the people were so happy to see him alive, the bells pealed in celebration.

This past July, Mary Dufour, her son, Gary, and her niece, Dori Bianco, went to Italy to visit Msgr. Bianco in Asti. . . the town where her father was born. The travelers then went to Lucca to visit Mary's aunt, Maria DiPaolo. This is the town in which Mary's mother was born.

During the visit, Mary's eyes were filled with the sights of Italy. She had expected rural life but she found Italy a modern country.

There were many more cars than she expected to see. "In Rome they even park on the sidewalks. . . and the taxis. . . You'd have a heart attack in one."

She said the Italian drivers drive fast and "toot their horns a lot." There aren't many stop signs in Rome and the taxis turn in several different directions whenever they want. "It's worse than Tijuana," she said.

She was in Italy 45 days and never saw an accident. She explained, "They've got good brakes and the drivers are pretty sure of themselves. They're good drivers."

Her uncle, she said, was a busy man. He took them to see Rome, knew just where to go, what to see and how long to stay.

Msgr. Bianco showed them the balcony where Mussolini made his speeches, as well as the catacombs.

The catacombs, she said, were dark and damp. "They gave you the impression that some of the dead were still in there."

"They were," interjected her son, Gary. He rolled his eyes and shuddered in his chair. Gary became scared in the catacombs and was led back up to the streets by his uncle.

One of Mrs. Dufour's aunts is a nun at St. Paul Convent, just outside of Rome. Sister Basil Bianco showed them the prison where St. Paul was held prisoner. They walked on the stones he walked on just before his execution.

Gary Dufour
. . .missal is gift

When he was beheaded, his head bounced three times.

According to Mrs. Dufour, three fountains were resurrected in those spots but all three now are dry.

There is a water shortage in Italy. In Asti, the city turns the water supply off as early as 9:30 a.m. and may not turn it on again until 4 or 5 p.m.

Mrs. Dufour's niece, Dori received her confirmation in Italy. With the aid of her uncle, she received the Catholic sacrament in the Bishop's Chapel in Asti, a rare privilege.

The homes where Mrs. Dufour's parents were born are still standing and still in the family, prompting her to visit them.

While there, Gary received a gift from Msgr. Bianco — a special missal, dating to 1929, written in Latin, and bearing a metal cross and sculptures across its broad cover.

When Gary was asked what he liked most about Italy, his mother quickly volunteered an answer for him, "The bar."

The bars in Italy, she said, are not at all like the ones in America. They have outdoor sections like sidewalk cafes. Anyone is allowed inside, there are no age limits.

Beer, coffee, sandwiches, liquor, ice cream and liqueurs are all readily available to anyone who wants them.

She remembered sending Gary to the local bar for some ice cream, but he returned with two quarts of beer.

After two months visiting in Italy, the traveling trio returned to Montclair. The church bells didn't peal for Mary Dufour's return, but her heart sang with happy memories.

$5,000 WINNER — Mrs. Sally Gross of Upland, an ex-school teacher, won this $5,000 on a one-dollar bet at Las Vegas at the Golden Nugget Casino. A $1 bet yielded her $2 on her first slot machine play. She lost the next $1 and then hit the jack-pot, four gold nuggets, with the next $1 bet.

$2 billion in state

Tax exempted property listed

Nearly $2 billion of assessed value on the 1974-75 county assessment rolls in California is exempt from property tax, including $74,041 in San Bernardino County.

The exemptions for veterans, churches, colleges, schools, hospitals and charitable properties statewide totals $1,951,619,000 compared with $1,827,305,000 last year, representing an increase of more than $124 million.

In this county, exempt values broken into categories include: veterans, $3,173; churches, $19,544; colleges, $18,077; schools, $4,012; hospitals, $16,413, and other charitable properties, $12,822.

The Board of Equalization is directly involved with the administration of the exemption program.

In addition to exemptions listed, there is the homeowner's exemption of $1,750 of assessed value available to an owner occupying his residence. In 1974, nearly 3.5 million homeowners qualified for the exemption for a total exempt assessed value of more than $6 billion.

Since the $1,000 veteran's and the $1,750 homeowner's exemption cannot be allowed on the same property, the more generous homeowner exemption has caused a 90 per cent drop in total exempt assessed value in veteran's exemptions.

Before the homeowner exemption came into effect, California assessors allowed veteran's exemption claims totaling over $556.1 million compared with $44.5 this year.

Before Gas Co. service people are ready to face you, they have to face themselves.

As a customer, you expect our service representatives to know what they're doing.

At the Gas Company, we expect more than that: we expect them to let you know that they know what they're doing.

So at our Customer Services Training Center, we now give our men the chance to see themselves as they really are.

On videotape.

And if you've ever been surprised at the sound of your own voice on a tape recorder, you can imagine what it's like when there's a picture to go along with it.

The test is simple: an instructor acts like a customer, and a trainee acts like himself. Then the whole scene is played back on a screen.

For the trainee, that one picture on the screen is worth a thousand words from his instructor.

At the Gas Company, a man doesn't just learn how to handle your appliances.

With videotape training, he also learns how to handle himself.

Alta Loma is ready for fire merger

A letter will be sent to county officials requesting transfer of power and authority to the new Foothill Fire Protection District on Oct. 26, according to Alta Loma Fire Chief Eugene Billings.

Billings said the Board of Directors of the Alta Loma Fire Protection District decided to have the letter sent from their district at a special meeting Friday night.

The letter from Alta Loma follows similar letters from the two other agencies involved in the change in fire districts, Cucamonga Fire Protection District and the Cucamonga County Water District. Both have sent letters to county officials requesting the merge at "the soonest possible date."

Although all three agencies have been eager to initiate the new fire district since it was approved on the June ballot, Alta Loma has been plagued with a series of obstacles dealing mostly with its new fire station.

At first, Alta Loma held back from going into the new district. There was trouble finding financing for the new station and Alta Lomans were reluctant to have a new district inherit the problem, preferring to solve it themselves.

After financing was found and a tentative date set for the merge, Oct. 12, another problem arose, dealing with site preparation work for the station and adjoining post office.

The Alta Loma district's problems have been cleared up now and the board of directors will signal to the county it is ready for the merger with this letter.

Billings doesn't think there is another problem to arise but added, "If there is the new board will inherit it. The best thing to do is to get this thing over with."

If Oct. 26 hadn't been chosen by the board, he said, the tentative date would have been requested as Nov. 9. The two-week intervals chosen by the fire districts for merger dates, he explained, coincided with their pay periods.

Ballots get escort to West End

Voters in the West End, who recieved their sample ballots later than the rest of the county in the primary election, will be the first county residents to receive sample ballots for the Nov. 5 general election.

Sample ballots were delayed in the mail before the June primary election.

County Registrar of Voters William Clinton announced that the sample ballots were delivered Thursday by his office directly to West End post offices instead of being sent on the usual mail route of San Bernardino to Los Angeles and back to the West End.

"This time voters in the West End will be the first to receive their ballots rather than the last," Clinton said.

However, voters who registered after Sept. 12 will not get their sample ballots in the mail until later in the month.

African missionary speaks in Montclair

Dr. Melvyn Michaelian will soon be treating African patients as a medical missionary doctor in Zaire (formerly Congo), the heart of West Africa. He will speak at First Baptist Church, 5150 Palo Verde St., Montclair Sunday evening, Oct. 13 at 7 p.m.

Michaelian gained an interest in missionary work when he spent 14 weeks assisting doctors and nurses at the Conservative Baptist Mission Hospital in Ferkessedougou, Ivory Coast. There he saw firsthand the needs of the Africans. "The medical needs are numerous," Michaelian said, "but the spiritual needs are even greater."

"As a Christian physician I am aware of how important one's spiritual relationship to God is in attempting to achieve total health," related Michaelian. "Yet there are billions of people who have never heard the good news about the Lord Jesus Christ."

Michaelian is one of 600 career and short-term missionaries who serve with the Conservative Baptist Foreign Mission Society of Wheaton, Ill. The 30 year-old mission society works in 21 countries. Medicine is one of the several ministries which help establish evangelical churches.

Fellowship church

Jeff Funk will deliver the Sunday morning message at the Fellowship Church of the Brethren, 2282 Third St., La Verne. The Talbot Seminary student will speak on "How to be Productive and Prosperous."

Sunday School classes for all ages begin at 9:30 a.m. A business meeting will be held at 6:30 p.m.

Oct. 26 the church will hold its annual retreat at Pacific Palisades. The theme will be "Evangelism."

LV Presbyterian

Sunday during the 9:30 a.m. worship service, the following parish shepherds of the La Verne Heights Presbyterian Church will be honored and dedicated: Darrell and Ann Doyle, Frank and Lois Keating, Harvey and Dovie Harkless, Charlotte Clifton and Jean Flagler, Ray and Liz Marcucci, and Bruce and Judy Thomson.

Dr. John R. Springer, pastor, will preach on the topic "The Priority of the Kingdom of God." Elder John Barton will bring a children's sermon, "Where Bad Habits Like to Settle." Elder Ed Ruffner will also assist in the service.

Up. Presbyterian

Rev. Robert Cushman Flagg has been invited to be assistant pastor at the First Presbyterian Church, 869 N. Euclid Ave., Upland, beginning Oct. 15. He will assist Rev. Robert Gillogly, senior pastor, with the services on Oct. 20 and will deliver the sermon on Oct. 27. A service of installation is being planned.

One of Rev. Flagg's main duties will be to work with the youth and the young families of the church. He will also concentrate on implementing a project serving senior citizens.

He has been pastor of the Sequoia Presbyterian Church of Orosi, California since 1971. Prior to that he was assistant pastor at the Valley Presbyterian Church of Portola Valley. He is a graduate of the San Francisco Theological Seminary and Lafayette College in Pennsylvania.

He and his wife, Marcia, are making their home at 233 S. Third Ave. in Upland.

Lutheran women

The Lutheran Women's Missionary League (LWML), Zone 16, will hold its fall rally Wednesday, Oct. 16, at Trinity Lutheran Church, 5080 E. Kingsley, Montclair. There will be eight churches participating and approximately 100 women attending.

Speaker for the rally will be Rev. James Poerschke, pastor of Hope Lutheran Church, Whittier and district counselor for the inspirational department of the Missouri Synod Lutheran Church.

The day will begin with registration at 9 a.m., followed by devotions given by the zone counselor, Rev. Maynard Saegar of Trinity Lutheran Church, Montclair

Religious classes

Further information is available at 599-1243.

Discipleship is topic for sermon series

Ontario's First Baptist Church will conclude a series of sermons on "Daring Discipleship for 1974" with a message on "Daring to Speak" at the 10 a.m. morning service of worship this Sunday. Two of the church's choirs will assist in the service. The cherub choir will be directed by Miss Barbara Totman and the chancel choir by Mr. Frank Alpers.

Two new Church School classes have been recently added to meet at 11 a.m. A course on "The Basics" is open to all adults taught by Audrey Lightbody. Pastor Lightbody is teaching a course on "The Bible, Book by Book" for the church's young adult class which has recently been reorganized. Other church school classes for children begin during the church hour and continue until noon. There are nine adult classes which meet from 11 a.m. to noon.

At 5:45 p.m., a discipleship class for new members will be conducted by Ralph Lightbody and Aidsand Riggins. Riggins is the intern associate minister.

Sunday evening's service will highlight the appearance of the church's youth choir, directed by Linda Walker Irby. The service will also feature a film called "Millie."

14 families join church

At the 10:15 a.m. service on Sunday, the sermon will seek to give God's answer to the question, "Why Were You Born?" The Jesus Singers, a children's choir under the direction of Vickie Henry, will sing.

Sunday Parish School will meet at 9 a.m. The pastor's Bible class will begin topical studies for balance of October.

Computer useful at steel plant

A steel products company in Etiwanda has found that a computer can help reduce air pollution significantly and save electricity at the same time.

Ameron Steel Producing Division receives reports from its IBM 1800 that enable the company to estimate how well it is meeting state air-quality standards. And the procedure has an added benefit — profits.

"We have found that by limiting how long our furnace roofs are open we can lower pollution levels and improve productivity," said Jack Miller, vice president and general manager. "Naturally, the lower the heat losses through the roof, the less electricity we need to operate those furnaces."

Sensors attached to the computer automatically report each opening and closing.

"We believed the roofs were staying open only long enough for scrap metal to be dropped into the furnace, a procedure that takes only a few seconds," Miller said.

"What we found, however, was that they were actually staying open longer than necessary. Now, with regular reports from the computer, open time is being held to a minimum."

The reports are used as information on compliance by air-quality agencies.

The IBM system performs other environment-oriented tasks at the Ameron mill, 40 miles east of downtown Los Angeles. For the furnaces themselves, the computer monitors and reports the usage of electricity. Preset limits of power demand are observed for every 30-minute interval around the clock. The computer notifies the melter and suggests curtailment if a problem exists. If he fails to take action, the computer will cut the power.

"Our savings in electricity alone more than equal the monthly cost of the data processing system" Miller said. "And, obviously, by reducing our demand for electricity we allow the utility company to conserve large amounts of energy.

"We've found that we can use power more effectively without any sacrifice in production or quality."

At Ameron, scrap metal is melted down at temperatures as high as 3,000 degrees and continually cast into billets 4½ inches square. Eventually these are hot-rolled into rods and bars for use in various finished products, including cold-drawn wire and welded steel fabric for manufacturing and construction. This process of recycling scrap fits in will with regional ecology efforts.

But each batch of scrap metal is different. So after a spectrograph analyzes a sample of the batch for 15 basic trace elements, the computer assigns a quality value to the batch and recommends a particular use for each billet.

If the basic ingredients supplied to the furnace don't blend into a proper mix, the computer prints out which additives — are needed.

Lions donate to institute

The Cucamonga District Lions Club won a second place cash prize of $550 at the Los Angeles County Fair and has decided to use the money in its sight conservation program.

According to Sam Grasso, publicity chairman, about $252 of the cash prize will be spent as dues for the year in the Southern California Lions Eye Institute.

The remainder of the money, said Grasso, will be used exclusively within the tri-community area.

Although the club's major thrust is for sight oriented aid to the needy in the local area, the institute is open through the Lions to those who qualify with a need for specialized equipment and care.

Grasso said the Lions expect to need 30-40 pairs of glasses and eye examinations this year in their program.

To help offset costs, the Lions are planning their second rummage sale this year, to be held in the Bank of America parking lot, 9719 Foothill Blvd., Cucamonga, Oct. 19.

Guests at auxiliary barbecue meet Claudia

OPARC Poster Child introduced

A highlight of the annual barbecue of the Ontario-Pomona Association for Retarded Citizens (OPARC) Auxiliary was the introduction of the 1975 OPARC Poster Child, Claudia Lynn Malmquist.

The 4½ year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Malmquist of Claremont was introduced during the festivities which were held recently at the Claremont home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Floyd.

Auxiliary members and guests also learned of the plans already in progress for the 1975 "Les Bal des Enfants Cheris" to be staged by the auxiliary in conjunction with the running of the California "500" race at the Ontario Motor Speedway. The tentative date of the ball is March 5, 1975, at Red Hill Country Club in Cucamonga.

All funds derived from the ball will aid the OPARC School in Montclair and OPARC's Diversified Industries in Ontario.

Claudia, the poster child, attends OPARC School and her mother feels that she is a "wonderful example of the progress which can be made by a retarded child, especially when help is received early in the child's life.

"There was no help available locally for Claudia when she was an infant," Mrs. Malmquist told The Daily Report. So, Mrs. Malmquist traveled with Claudia daily to and from Pasadena, where the closest infant stimulation center was located. With the help she gained at the center, Claudia was able to crawl by her second birthday on Christmas Day, 1971, and to walk alone by the following summer.

In September of 1972, OPARC began its own Infant Stimulation Center with the help of money raised by the OPARC Auxiliary at the annual ball.

"Now many infants, like Claudia, can receive the help they desperately need at an early age right here in their own community," Mrs. Malmquist said.

The Malmquists have another special child, a son, 16-year-old John, who works daily with Claudia and takes care of her. Mrs. Malmquist said that seeing the two of them together is a beautiful thing. In fact, John is so good with his sister that he has been called on to work with her at demonstrations of work being done with the retarded.

Infant stimulation is not the only program available at OPARC. There are many programs for the mentally retarded and the developmentally disabled available for persons of all ages and needs. For more information, call OPARC at 626-5108.

General chairman of this year's fund-raising "Les Bal" is Mrs. Floyd, who is being assisted by Mrs. Gerald Wechsler as co-chairman.

Other chairmen are: the Mmes. Pratt Johnson, secretary; Paul Woolfe, auction; Ralph Procter and Robert Riley, prizes; David Swaithes and William Hill, tickets; Dan Schreiner, reservations; Edmond Vadnais, invitations; Dale McPhetridge and David Cumbie, hostesses; LaVerne Hathaway, casino; Lou Catalano, music; Bernard Wechsler, cuisine; Charles Saulls, finance; George Yetter and Angello Bonnano, acknowledgements; Joe Johnston and Eric Noble, decorations; Malmquist, publicity; L.J. Henderson, guardian angels; and Edward J. Duffy, program advertising.

The public is invited to the Foothill Council, International Reading Association when the council presents their annual membership tea, Oct. 10 at 3:30 p.m. in the Community Room, Upland Lumber Company, Upland, 85 N. Euclid Ave.

The International Reading Association is a professional organization for individuals and groups concerned with the improvement of reading at any educational level.

At the social event, planned by Ruth Smith and Sharon Plamondon, will be an exhibition of 80 children books, the best of 1974-75, selected by Winefred Ragsdale of the George C. Stone Memorial Library in Claremont. Bibliographies will be available for all who attend.

Children's Home Auxiliary

Supporting members fete

Casa Alegre Auxiliary to the Children's Home Society (CHS) of California honored supporting members at a brunch held recently in the Upland home of Mrs. Allyn Scheu.

Arrangements for the event were made by Mrs. Paul Lightfoot, and Mrs. Martin Baughman, membership chairwomen.

A short talk on CHA's shifting of gears into new areas of service was given by Mrs. Thomas Longmire, director of auxiliaries. This change in service areas is due to the shortage of babies available for placement in adoptive homes. Some of these services include counseling unwed mothers, regardless of whether they intend to place their children for adoption or not, counseling of individual family members and groups and placement of Vietnamese children in American homes.

Children's Home Society also is involved in providing several different types of foster homes for adolescents who need counseling because of parental neglect, incompatible home situations and other problems.

Monies contributed through associate and patroness memberships and their support of auxiliary fund-raising events during the year directly support all of these services.

Board order needed to close school

An order from the County Board of Supervisors would be required before Chaffey College would shut down the campus during heavy smog sieges, a college administrator reported.

In making that statement, K.C. Hinrichsen, associate superintendent, clarified earlier reports indicating the school would discontinue classes and send students home whenever the second stage level was reached.

Closing the campus hinges on a decision by the county Emergency Action Committee and the supervisors, which can close industries and schools on high-smog days. Although the county can close facilities in an attempt to cut vehicle traffic, this step was avoided last summer, partially because smog emergency plans hadn't yet been prepared.

What's Going on at Griswold's

Sandy and I have visited interesting and unusual shopping centers in all parts of the country. The towns with the best are Cassis, La Jolla, Denver and Atlanta's old towns, San Francisco's Union Street, Ghirardelli Square and the Cannery.

Griswold's Old School House is unique in its own way. DID YOU NOTE THE WRITE—UP IN Time Magazine on it a few week's ago? To round out our services to the area we need additional shops such as Linen, Baby Shop, Wigs, Custom Sewing, Candles, Wrought Iron and more international shops: British, Scotch, Irish, Greek, Iran.

We know there are local folk who would enjoy developing a successful store. All of our stores are run by local talent, many of whom have never been in business before...Why not you?

The Boiler Room is a fun place for afternoon chit-chat and imbibing, and it really swings at night when Rob & Lance are singing and clowning. The Boiler itself has acquired a personality and is affectionately called "Big Bertha".

See You At Griswold's

Health News...

Too Many 'Ups' Can Cause One Big 'Down'

By DR. W. P. HELZER, D.C.

For some time now, I have maintained that too many Americans are literally dying from over-tranquilized lives. You show me a case where a seemingly young, healthy person dies suddenly from mysterious causes and I think we'll eventually discover that heart damage due to tranquilizers was the culprit.

Dr. Wes Helzer D.C.

In this respect, it is interesting to note that recently an item was carried in a paper headlined "Tranquilizers Called Heart Defect Cause". The article stated that "curious defects inside the heart apparently are the reason some people die suddenly". It went on to note that the heavy use of tranquilizers is the suspected cause of heart damage.

The source for the article was a report in the Journal of the American Medical Association, written by a team of physicians.

You must understand that tranquilizers can well cause heart lesions by blocking the action of chemicals from the adrenal glands.

I am pleased to note that my colleagues in the medical profession had concluded much the same in their research project.

What does this all mean to the average individual?

Chronic stress is a real and distinct problem suffered by many, many people, particularly those who lead a fast pace in family, business or social circles. However, they cannot constantly 'slow down the pace' artificially. This stress has a cause and must be treated at its source. Nervous tension due to stress cannot be whisked away with a pill. It is a matter that must be dealt with at its origin: an improperly functioning system.

Frankly, persons who carry on a fast pace . . . who have 'ups and downs' . . . who can go-go-go and then become exhausted . . . who have trouble getting started and then can't quit . . . should seek treatment rather than that little plastic coated 'treat'."

In other words, if you have to kill yourself, at least keep your body healthfully alive.

(Note: Dr. Helzer maintains chiropractic offices at 108 East H Street, Ontario, telephone: 983-1711).
